The screenshot shows the Twitter profile for 'Science for Ukraine' (@Sci_for_Ukraine). The profile picture is a yellow circle with 'SCIENCE FOR UKRAINE' text. The header features the hashtag '#ScienceForUkraine' and the website 'https://scienceforukraine.eu'. Below the header, there are icons for a menu, messages, notifications, and a 'Following' button. The bio states: '@Sci_for_Ukraine Follows you #ScienceForUkraine is a community group of volunteer scholars and students around the world to help scholars and students affected by the Russia's war in 🇺🇦'. It also includes the website 'scienceforukraine.eu' and 'Joined February 2022'. At the bottom, it shows '549 Following' and '7,437 Followers'.

The screenshot displays the website's search interface. It includes a search bar, a 'CATEGORY' dropdown with options like 'Any', 'Paid Positions', and 'Education', and a 'Funding Programme' dropdown with options like 'Partnership' and 'Other Help'. A 'COUNTRY' dropdown is set to 'Any'. The 'DISCIPLINE' section has multiple filters such as 'Natural sciences', 'Social sciences', 'Humanities & the arts', 'Engineering & technology', 'Medical & health sciences', and 'Agricultural & veterinary sciences'. A 'FILTER RESULTS BY MAP EXTENT' toggle is visible. Below the filters, a map of Leipzig is shown. The main content area lists several job offers, including 'Helmholtz Center Munich (based in Leipzig)', 'Academy of Fine Arts Leipzig', 'Leipzig University, Faculty of Philology', and 'Max Planck Institute for Human Cognitive and Brain Sciences'. Each listing includes a brief description and a 'Research Focus / Keywords' section.

Dear Dr. Galyna Ryabukha,

We highly appreciate your participation as an expert in the framework of the project "Regenerate Strategies for Higher Education (REGEN-U)", funded by the Erasmus+ Program of the European Union.

Your contribution to this project is highly valuable for us. We are grateful for the experience you have shared with us, and we are confident that it will help us to fulfill the goals of this project in the best possible way.

The REGENU project aims to support a regenerative green economy as well as the potential for HEIs to increase their positive impact and contribution to society in the implementation of entrepreneurial solutions based on the principles of the regenerative economy. The BETA Technological Center is member of the consortium of the project, which will be implemented from 1st January 2023 to 31st December 2025 under the coordination of the University of Venice.

We will be glad to see you at this project activity and participating in other events organised by the BETA Technological Center.
